

ABSTRACT

A method of increasing IL-10/IFN γ ratio in subjects suffering from an autoimmune condition or a viral infection is described. IFN τ is administered in a dose sufficient to increase the IL-10/IFN γ blood ratio, to prevent on-set, to prevent progression, or to treat these conditions.